Ready. Set.

Have you got a milestone birthday coming up that you would like to stand out above all of the rest? A photobooth is the perfect addition to any celebration to ensure your guests have a great time and create many fantastic memories that both you and they can cherish for years to come.

A photobooth at your birthday party will help you to capture a serious number of images throughout the event without your friends and family having to have a camera or phone in hand all night. That means more free hands for drinks and dancing! Not only will your guests get instant prints of their booth images, they'll also have the ability to download the digital copies straight to their devices. You will also receive the high resolution images and print files on USB following the party, as well as a professionally produced slideshow including some of the best images from the night!

Guest books are a really popular way to remember all of your wonderful friends and family that were able to join you in celebrating your birthday. As well as guests being able to leave a heartfelt note (or hilarious poem) for you, your guests are encouraged to paste a copy of their photobooth prints into your guestbook alongside their written message. We provide a black leather guestbook as part of all of our birthday hire packages and our friendly attendant will be there to encourage your guests to get the most out of your guest book.

Party!

Do you want candid shots that capture the essence of your birthday party outside of what happens in the booth? Problem solved! Our exclusive In the Booth app includes our exclusive Guest Cam function. This gives your guests the ability to take photos through the app on their phone that will then print out at the booth. You will also receive the digital copy of all Guest Cam shots on your USB after the party. Our Guest Cam option provides so many additional photo opportunities you'll be spoilt for choice! From your besties on the dance floor to blowing out the candles, to creative shots of your décor and huge group photos – all the action will be captured through Guest Cam!

Photobooths are enjoyed by people of all ages! We've been to a whole range of birthday parties from first birthdays all the way through to milestone 100th birthdays and the booth never fails to draw a crowd. You may be surprised to see those that are usually quite camera shy posing away throughout the night as they get more comfortable letting their hair down in the privacy of our retro booths.

Choose a gorgeous print design to complement your party theme and you've got the ideal themed gift for your guests to remember your big night! The addition of some helium balloons in your birthday number make the perfect custom prop for your guests to go crazy with.

What is it you love about providing photo booth hire services in Adelaide?

Without doubt, the best part would be the smiles we create at every single event. We love the diversity of events we get to attend large and small. Photo booth hire is all we do, so concentrating on every detail is our key focus. The satisfaction we receive from providing a first class service to our clients is our biggest reward.

Tell us about some uniquely Adelaide touches you have seen at an event?

The most eclectic, Adelaidian event that comes to mind would have to be a horror themed night, set at a particularly old hotel in the city. The booth was behind a black curtain in a tiny darkened room, and the props included some very chilling masks and costumes. The guests were also in costume which made for an amazing show and the whole night went brilliantly. Needless to say the booth was a deadly hit!!

What are your essential tips for organising a fantastic event?

In a wedding or engagement sense, personalise the event to reflect the true character and nature of both of you. Whether it is a lavish spectacular or a simple, home grown experience, make it an expression of love, and something that will remind the guests of you both. With the many other types of events we do, it is all about fun, fun, fun!!

When in Adelaide you must...

Spend time relaxing and enjoying the sights and sounds of our beautiful city, including some delectable eateries. Make sure you take a drive up to Mount Lofty at night to view the glistening, panoramic views of the Adelaide environs, it's quite the view! In summer you just can't beat Glenelg, or a paddle boat ride down the River Torrens.

PLANNING YOUR

As each year passes, we see surprise weddings becoming more and more popular! Whether the fuss of a traditional wedding just isn't your style, or because you're a couple who likes to do things a bit differently, a surprise wedding will be an event your guests won't forget in a hurry!

PLAN YOUR DECOY

To ensure all of your nearest and dearest are present for your special day, it's always helpful if your decoy event is another milestone event, such as your engagement party or your partner's 30th birthday. Really try to emphasise that it will be a party not to be missed, without letting the cat out of the bag! Ensure you give plenty of notice to your guests as well, as they may be less likely to change pre-existing plans for a 28th birthday party!

THEY BE STYLIN'

The style of your decoy event should match that of your wedding. A casual housewarming party is fine if you're going for a casual, low-key wedding, but if you'd prefer a formal affair, you may need to get creative. Think of giving your decoy event a 'Hollywood' theme if it is a party that guests may otherwise choose to wear jeans to.

TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE

Time is of the essence for a surprise wedding – you want to make sure all of your guests are present before the big reveal as you don't want them to miss out! Perhaps include on the invitation to arrive by '6:45pm sharp' as dinner will be served at 7pm (or whatever your timing may be) as this will give a subtle hint that it will not be acceptable for guests to casually stroll in at 8pm!

NO GO TO NO SHOWS

As much as you would like everyone that is special to you to be in attendance for your exciting surprise, be prepared for the possibility that some guests may not be able to make it. If an incredibly important guest lets you know that they are not able to attend and some gentle hints don't quite do the trick, you may need to consider letting this person in on your secret to ensure they can be there for you.

SECRET'S SAFE WITH ME

When you begin planning, you may choose to let a few people in on your plan. Some couples choose to let their parents, immediate family and a select few friends know beforehand. This could prove very beneficial if you feel that they may not take the surprise well or will be upset that they didn't know beforehand. It's always handy to have someone to help pull off the surprise on the day!

THE EAGLE HAS LANDED

However you choose to do the big reveal, it is absolutely crucial that you have both photos and video of this moment – from as many perspectives as possible! This will undoubtedly be one of your favourite memories from the day and one you will love to look back on. If you're having an In the Booth photobooth, ask the attendant beforehand if they are able to take a few sneaky Guest Cam shots via our exclusive In the Booth app! Let us know that you are having a surprise wedding and we'll gladly help you out! We can have one instant print design for the cover party and then break out the wedding design once the secret is out to your guests!

Our experience from when we first met the staff from In The Booth from the wedding expo right till the wedding day was nothing short of amazing, professional, helpful and reassuring. We spoke to Nicole mostly via email and she was really efficient in her responses and I would most definitely say they were the best vendor I dealt with throughout our wedding. Everyone had praises for how great the booth was during the wedding! The photos were great, the space of the booth was spacious, not forgetting the special features of using the guest cam, video messages and also saving digital copies of the prints was absolutely a +++++! Definitely go with them, you will not regret it!

Highly recommend In The Booth for your wedding. Absolutely amazing!! This was a last minute extra that our very generous brother in law organised for us! It was such a hit for all ages. The night just flies by, our awesome attendant came and got us when the booth was free to get some quick snaps when we had a spare minute. The quality of the photos is amazing. And even better you can download all the images onto your phone and have them stored forever. We got a complimentary guest book which our guests could paste their photos in and write next to it. We received a beautiful box shortly after our wedding with a card, some lollies and a USB of all our images from the night. So many laughs and memories we'll have forever. Can't go wrong with In The Booth!

The team at In The Booth were wonderful through our planning and actual wedding Day. They were able to accommodate payment plans, updated us with any information we may have been interested in and ensured all designs we had picked for the photos themselves were able to be accommodated. communication was excellent whether it was via email or phone, we were always able to contact them with any queries of which were responded to in a quick and efficient manner with the team confirming all details via phone with both myself and the venue the day before the wedding. Our booth attendant on the night was excellent and had a fantastic work ethic and laid back personality that allowed everyone who jumped in the booth to feel comfortable and encouraged to have as much fun as possible. He was even good enough to jump in a few photos with our guests as they pulled him in! The USB with all photos and video messages was delivered within the allotted timeframe and were of an excellent quality - High resolution individual snaps along with the actual strips all pieced together. Thank you to the entire In The Booth team for your assistance and support to ensure our day was forever memorable.
